

Academic Job Details

Teaching Fellow/Lecturer/Senior Lecturer in Clinical/Health Psychology School of Psychology Faculty of Medical Sciences

Academic Job Summary

.....

The University has developed an Academic Job Summary Guidance document which summarises the range of activities that academic staff may be expected to perform.

It is expected that the successful candidate will take up position around June 2019 or soon after.

Specific Responsibilities of Position

.....

1. To undertake teaching, module leadership and supervision of under-, and post-graduate psychology students;
2. To offer specialist expertise in health and/or sport & exercise psychology
3. To undertake teaching, module leadership and supervision duties across a range of psychology programmes, including our MSc Foundations in Clinical Psychology.
4. To undertake administrative duties as deemed necessary, including participation in relevant School and Faculty committees and activities. For Grade G/H appointment, a substantive leadership role would be negotiated with the Head of School.
5. To participate in external activity related to psychology, teaching, scholarship and research. For Grade G/H appointment, leadership within the clinical/health team regarding external partnerships/collaborations with relevant organisations.
6. To contribute to the promotion of psychology programmes to both current and prospective students.
7. To act as a personal tutor to UG/PG students, concerned with students' academic achievements, and pastoral care.
8. To contribute to University administration, course planning, curriculum development, the recruitment of students, engage in teaching and scholarly activities and module/programme leadership. For Grade G/H appointment, to contribute to development of MSc Foundations in Clinical Psychology.
9. To participate in relevant staff development activities.

Academic Job Details

10. To undertake other duties, such as participation in School, Faculty and University meetings, as detailed by the Head of School.

Person Specification

.....

	Qualifications	Essential or Desirable
1	PhD or Professional Doctorate in Psychology (or near to completion)	E
2	Specialist knowledge and interest in health and/or clinical psychology	D
3	Fellow/Senior Fellow of the Higher Education Academy;	D
Knowledge, Skills and Experience
1	Excellent communication skills both verbal and written;	E
2	Creativity and innovation;	E
3	Ability to work well on own initiative and as part of a team;	E
4	Excellent organisational, administrative and planning skills;	E
5	Excellent IT skills;	E
6	For Grade H, ability to mentor junior staff;	E
7	For Grade H, ability to provide leadership in teaching, research or scholarship;	E
8	For Grade H, proven project management skills	E
9	For Grade F/G, potential to provide leadership in teaching, research or scholarship;	D
10	For Grade F/G, understanding of project management skills;	D
11	Knowledge of teaching/research in mental health.	D
12	Experience of teaching psychology at under-, and/or post-graduate level, preferably in health or clinical fields	E
13	For grades G/H Experience in the supervision of under-, and/or post-graduate dissertation students. For Grade F, the ability to supervise under- and/or post-graduate projects	E
14	For Grade H, understanding of and experience in processes involved in module and programme development/leadership;	E
15	A track record in publishing (Grade G) or potential to publish (Grade F) in peer-reviewed journals commensurate with career stage. For Grade H appointment, the ability to publish internationally recognised research in high quality research/pedagogical peer-reviewed journals;	E
16	For Grade H, evidence of standing at national/international level in discipline;	E
17	For Grade G/H, understanding and experience in processes involved in module and programme development and leadership	D

Academic Job Details

	Attributes/Behaviours
1	Ability to respond enthusiastically and positively to students	E
2	Demonstrable willingness to work collaboratively with colleagues as part of a team	E
3	Empathetic to the needs of staff and of a diverse student body	D

HR Office Use Only
SAP Position Number:
Grade:	F/G/H
Effective Date:	28/02/2019